Brief description of the problem

Rosemont Pharmaceuticals Ltd has informed us of an error in the barcode and GTIN number of the label on the bottle of the above batches. When scanned, the barcode identifies the bottle as Paracetamol 120ml/5ml Oral Suspension instead of Paracetamol 250mg/5ml Oral Suspension. The dm&d browser website also identifies this GTIN number and barcode incorrectly as Paracetamol 120ml/5ml Oral Suspension.

The product is not subject to a recall and the strength printed on the bottle label is correctly stated as Paracetamol 250mg/5ml Oral Suspension. The barcode and the GTIN number on the outer box is correct and identifies the strength of the batches as Paracetamol 250mg/5ml Oral Suspension.

Advice for healthcare professional

- When identifying the product strength please go by the labelled contents' not the strength stated when the barcode is scanned or the GTIN number on the dm&d browser website.

Advice for wholesalers

- Please forward this letter on to any pharmacies, hospitals and healthcare professionals that you supply Paracetamol 250mg/5ml Oral Suspension to, within 5 days of receiving this letter.
